PARTICIPATE! - JOIN A PANEL

Share Your Experiences as an Educator, Administrator, or Student

The 2011 Annual Conference will once again provide members an opportunity to serve on panels in a variety of topic areas. Panel topics for this year include: 1) The Role of Sport Management Programs in Kinesiology Departments, 2) Coaching -Is it for You?, 3) Student Performance in the Classroom (Faculty Panel), and 4) Student Performance in the Classroom (Student Panel). If you have expertise or experience as an educator, administrator, or student in one or more of these areas, there are still opportunities to become a panelist. In addition, if you have ideas on a potential panel topic you would like to see at this year's conference and you would be willing to become the facilitator for the panel, there is still room for two more panel topics. Please contact Pete Van Mullem at vanmullem.pete@gmail.com for more information.

ABSTRACTS ARE IN!

A Variety of Topics Submitted for Review

The 2011 Annual Conference looks to continue the strong tradition of bringing the attendee an assortment of topics to engage in. Peavey Paper submissions reached 78 abstracts representing six universities. Faculty and graduate students representing universities from Canada, Utah, California, Washington, Idaho, and Oregon submitted abstracts for oral presentations and poster sessions on topics in health, recreation, exercise science, coaching, and more. Faculty and student abstracts are currently in review.

WSKW ROUND TABLE DISCUSSIONS

Two Sessions Provide Open Discussion on the Future of WSKW and WSR

During the annual conference this coming October, WSKW Members will have a chance to attend two open discussion sessions that could impact the future of WSKW. One round table discussion will focus on WSKW Membership (benefits, recruitment, and participation). The second round table will examine the Western Society Review (WSR) annual publication, providing discussion on future possibilities including; guidelines for submission, online publication options, and distribution. The sessions will occur back-to-back allowing members an opportunity to attend both sessions.
